Many scientists have been seeking to demonstrate that the only difference be tween the different elements lies in electrons in their atoms. Transmutation is the best kind of evidence in support of the theory.

"There is no present intrinsic value in the achievement, but it opens up for the distant future possibilities we dare not even try to predict."

The Amsterdam experiments were made with a quartz mercury vapor lamp, similar to the one used by other scientists in their attempts to convert mercury lato gold, the report

Two Series of Experiments.

Doctors Smits and Krassen describe two series of experiments-the first of which, owing to certain complications, were indecisive, "but the second series resulted in the transmutation of the element lead into mercury and thalltom.

"Since in our experiments we were investigating the quartz transmution into mercury," they added, "it was necessary from the first to avoid a mercury air pump and a mercury manometer. Therefore the lamp employed was evacuated by a carefully cleaned metallic pump with two 'V' tubes placed in liquid nir, and finally by a large vessel filled with cocount carbon. It was also cooled in flould nir, a method by which a high vacuum could be obtained.

Details of Experiment.

The procedure by which mercury was obtained follows: The quartz lamp was filled with lead; the lead then was heated in a high vacuum until it was red hot. The lead oxen coating being completely dissociated, the surface of the fould lead became as brilliaut as mercury. The lamp was left to burn in vacuum. The lamp was also oscillated so as to make and break the current, thus increasing its intensity. after ten bours, the strongest charac irristic lines of mercary and also that flum appeared on a spectrograph Again and again the process was repeated and each time with the same MIPCORR. In later runs, along the whole lead pectrum, the mercury times were lominant, Doctors Smith and Krassen declared, adding: "The striking result just given

I had informed mademolselle that I would call for her, or send for her; and I intended to keep my word. Aside from this there were the Chortaws, whom Blenville would set on my trail if it was not believed I had departed in a boat.

I stuck close to the shore, sprawling on the sand, with Suarez or one of his men always in the middle distance, keeping watch. Toward sunset Blenville came hurrying down to the boats and accosted me, saying:

"Monsleur Brampton, I'm off for the island. Another ship come in. It's a h-1 of a case! A sick woman hereand she may have the plague-and no place to keep this new lot either here or out there. I go to see they are kept on the ship until I can arrange for

He bit his tip and hesitated, his perplexed. Illa intention of compelling my company was being replaced by another safeguard. IS COFFEE HARMFUL?

COFFEE is the morning drink of the great majority of American famillies. It is probably the noon and evening drink as well in most households. As all the coffee used in this country is imported, it is an easy matter to determine whether its use is increasing or not. On this question there is no doubt. Coffee drinking in the United States is steadily increasing, While enormous quantities of tea are also used, ten has never been as popular in this country as coffee, nor as generally used here as it is in

Why do you not want a cup of hot coffee with your breakfast? For two reasons. The first is that most people like a hot drink with their meals. The second is that most coffee drinkers get a marked effect from the entfeine, which is the essential alkaloid in coffee. This drug stimulates the heart and raises the blood pressure. It puts a kick in you and sends you off to your day's work, ready to meet its trials and responsibilities,

Perhaps you are one of those who say, "l'offee doesn't affect me at all. I can drink it or let it alone and never know the difference." All right. But last leave off your usual cup of coffee tomorrow morning at breakfast. About alm or tel o'clock in the morning you will suddenly realize that you have a dall bendache. Judicious Use to Be Favored Where Manure Is Scarce.

Do not get the idea that you can safely stop using time just because the writer of popular articles has quesfloord its value. This advice comes from A. W. In explanation of this he says: "There are n few plants that do fairly well on an acid soil, but if you are engaged in general farming or trucking where the supply of farm manure is limited, you will be abundantly renarded for the judicious use of lime in some form. For the average sell, unless known to be highly acid, one to two tons of pulequivalent in another form, once in a four or five-year rotation, will usually
